PREMIUM AUTOMATIC DISHWASHING LIQUID

SURFACES: Cleans Glass, Stainless Steel and Ceramics without corrosion.

ENVIRONMENTAL: Bio-degradable, septic safe

ADWL is specifically manufactured for the catering industry where only the healthiest, cleanest and best presentation of results is acceptable for fine dining.

ADWL is one of the very few products on the market designed to resist calcium and magnesium drop out in automatic machines.

These mineral deposits- if not removed will create wear and tear on all moving components within the dish washing machine. This creates inefficiencies within the machine and the final wash results.

ADWL is a water treatment system designed around the water temperatures and machine cycles to minimise or stop all mineral fallout.

This massively reduces the need for down time to de scale the machine, as well as the added costs associated with extra product and machine ware.

For peace of mind and absolute cleanliness in your commercial kitchen, use ADWL PREMIUM

DIRECTIONS: Use 1.5 to 10 mls per litre of wash solution via Automatic dispensing equipment. Variation in dosage is required to suit soil and water conditions within work areas.

Refer to sds (safety data sheets) for more information.
